Manga Style

This season the Cruise collection comes to spectacular three dimensional life thanks to an extraordinary collaboration with renowned Manga artist Hirohiko Araki and Gucci creative director Frida Giannini. Taking inspiration from Giannini's vibrant collection, Araki crafted a vivid story about a young girl on a quest to discover the story behind a mysterious keepsake left by her mother. Here a sneak peek at Jolyne: Fly High with Gucci. And remember to check out the entire manga in Spur Magazine, Gucci store windows and on Gucci Facebook this January.

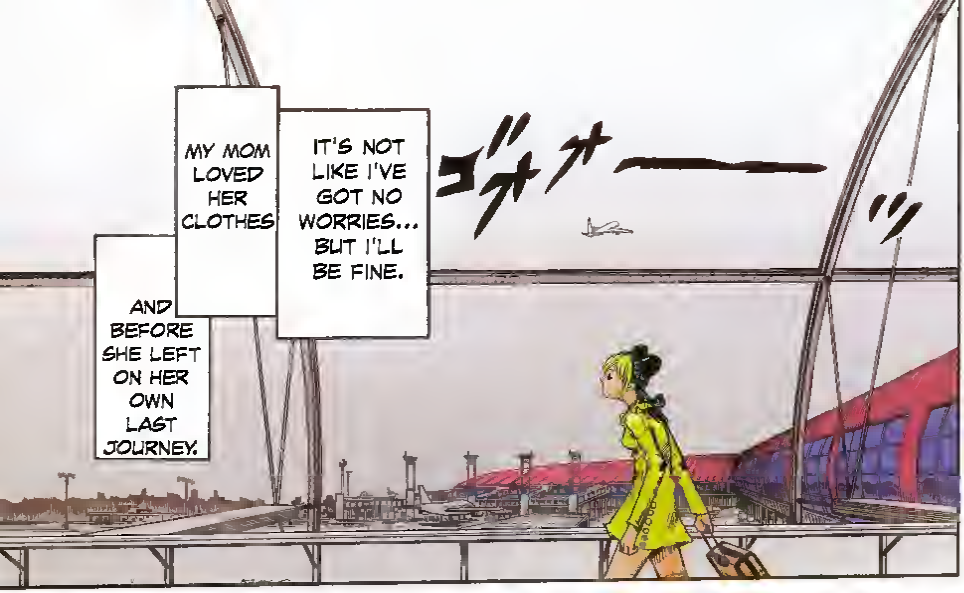
ABOUT TEN DAYS AGO, MY MOM PASSED AWAY FROM AN ILLNESS. NOW I'M ALL ALONE.
I'M ABOUT TO BOARD A PLANE FOR TOKYO.
I'VE GOT DISTANT RELATIVES THERE, AND THEY'LL LET ME STAY...



AND BEFORE SHE LEFT ON HER OWN LAST JOURNEY.
MY MOM LOVED HER CLOTHES
IT'S NOT LIKE I'VE GOT NO WORRIES... BUT I'LL BE FINE.
ゴォォ——

THIS BLOUSE, THAT DRESS... ALL OF THEM
WHENEVER I WEAR THESE, MY MOTHER WILL BE WATCHING OVER ME.
SHE QUIETLY HAD THEM ALL MADE OVER TO FIT ME.
SO, YES, I'LL BE OKAY.
